“ I am so glad he and I saw each other two weeks before his death. He told me how much he appreciated me as an educator who helped him to become a media specialist. He and I shared a professional friendship. I am so happy that I got to tell him that I appreciated him for his work and dedication to making a difference for many students—prayers for peace and comfort to his family and friends. I am so sorry that I was out of the country during his funeral services. RIP.
