

Joseph Wesley Chadwell

May 29, 1964 - November 10, 2025

He was born on May 29, 1964, a son of Eleanor (Williams) Chadwell and the late Ikey Joe Chadwell.

Joey grew up with a love for sports, laughter, and good company. His sense of humor carried him through every stage of life, earning him a wide circle of friends and fond memories wherever he went.

In addition to his mother, Eleanor Chadwell, he is survived by two daughters, Ashely Chadwell Bruner and husband, Jordan, and their children, Evelyn and Avery Bruner, all of Jonesville, VA, and Lesley Chadwell Meyer and husband, Garret, and their son, Owen, all of Bristol, TN; one brother, Kelly Chadwell, and his daughter, Brooks Chadwell; and several aunts, uncles, cousins and friends.

Per his wishes, no formal services will be held. His family encourages friends and loved ones to honor his life in their own way-by sharing a laugh, telling a good story, just as he would have done.

Online condolences may be sent by visiting, www.RobinetteFuneralHomes.com. Robinette Funeral Home of Jonesville is serving the Chadwell family.

“ I've known Joey for 30 years or a little longer. He was an outgoing individual with a kind and honest personality. I will forever remember all the time spent with him running around back in the 1990s. His sense of humor was always the same throughout the years I knew him. It's been a long time since I had saw Joey and when he found out my mom had passed away a few years ago, he called me and left a message of condolences. As I learned about his passing, I want to say to his family, that I am honored to have known him and his family. Amazing people and friends. You're in my thoughts and prayers.

So sorry to hear this, one time Joey gave me a ride home and when we almost came to turn at millers chapel he pulled the emergency brake and around we went. He was always playing jokes and just wanting to make people laugh. He was also one heck of an athlete.

“ Joe and I shared a lot of memories together growing up and later in years. He loved Lousvile Basketball and me being an IU fan we both could talk trash like no other. We had ate at White Castles in Indiana...I had carried him up stairs with his leg in back of Bill Munceys...Pulled him out of the mud at damn up Mill Holla...I watched him take his shoes off at Powell Valley of TN. cause Kyle took him out of the game. Watched him get in trouble at JHS...Joe was my best man...Every sport we played with one another we understood that the other was only as good as the other...Joe had regrets as we had spoken about those things over the years but he would say if he could done things differently he would have as he would chuckle and say he would do better tomorrow. Joe did love life and his family. So many stories I could go on for hours...He will be missed but not forgotten. Mr. Joe you are at peace now and have always loved you...

One story comes to mind. It was during the 1977 Pittston coal strike. State police were shipped into Lee County from all over the state. We were heading west on a motorbike in the middle of town, and Joey was driving. All at once, he pulled out onto the main highway, and what was coming at us, yes, a state trooper. We passed each other in front of Allen Minor's house. We cut down a back street, and the trooper was after us. We turned into Greg Dickerson's yard, jumped off the bike, and tossed it into the bushes beside their house. We hid in the area of the outbuilding where we kids always played. The trooper combed the neighborhood for a long time, stopping and turning off his car, and just listening for us on the bike. After an hour (I guess), we were able to leave and go to wherever we were going—a tense time. Joey, of course, was laughing the whole time. Just like Gary said, there are many more stories I could tell. RIP, old friend.
