“ Ken was my best friend for 53 years. I have more fond memories than I can count. It's true that Ken never met a stranger, as he befriended all the people he ever met. Those who knew him can attest that whenever someone needed help, Ken was the first one (and most times the ONLY one) folks could count on. He was a fine teacher and roll model for his sons, a good provider for his family, a loving grandfather, and the best friend a guy could ever ask for. Rest in peace my friend. Until we meet again.
