“ I spent a lot of time with Nancy after Helen died. We reminisced about growing up and the fun times we had as children. Nancy told me a few weeks back that Granddaddy Neal's farm was her favorite place growing up.

When Nancy and I got together, the topic always turned to her "boys". She always told me they were such good boys and how proud she was of both of them. She loved her sons, their wives and grandchildren immensely. Nancy was very tired of being sick but kept hanging on for her family. She desperately missed Helen and longed to be reunited with Helen, Aunt Grace and Uncle Grover.

Nancy and Helen were both wonderfully kind human beings. It was difficult to mourn Helen because she was very much alive in Nancy. Now I mourn both. Eric and Ashley, your mom was a good, kind and compassionate person. I'm sure you are broken hearted but take comfort in the fact that you were both deeply loved and highly respected by your your mother. She was a wonderful cousin and friend and I will miss her.

“ Nancy & Helen were my cousins. When we were small I couldn't tell them apart so I called them Twin#1 and Twin#2. They were both sweet and kind. My sister Gloria & I loved to play with them. I still couldn't tell them apart when we grew up. They still looked alike and kept their beautiful sweet and kind personalities. Our thoughts & prayers with Nancy's sons and their families.

There was a secret to decoding, which was which. They wore open toed shoes most of the time and they painted their toenails different colors. Otherwise they were truly identical.
